

Kidsize Economics:
An Elementary School Teachers Workshop
January 29, 2009

Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Charlotte Branch
530 East Trade Street, Charlotte, NC 28202

Co-sponsored by

The Powell Center for Economic Literacy and
The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Charlotte Branch

- 8:30 Registration/Coffee
- 9:00 Welcome
*Jewel Glenn, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Charlotte Branch
Tim Schilling, Powell Center for Economic Literacy*
- 9:10 Introduction to Economic Concepts for Elementary Teachers:
Powell's Keystone Economic Principles
Tim Schilling, Powell Center for Economic Literacy
- 9:45 Lower Elementary Breakout (Lower Elementary, K-2)
Economics Using Children's Literature
Beth Eckstein, Director of the Economic Center at East Carolina University
- Older Elementary Breakout (Upper Elementary, 3-5)
Ergs & Utills: Specialization and the Factors of Production
Tim Schilling, Powell Center for Economic Literacy
- 10:45 Break
- 11:00 Older Elementary Breakout (Upper Elementary, 3-5)
Economics Using Children's Literature
Beth Eckstein, Director of the Economic Center at East Carolina University
- Lower Elementary Breakout (Lower Elementary, K-2)
It's Your Choice
Tim Schilling, Powell Center for Economic Literacy
- Noon Lunch (guest speaker discussing current economic situation)
- 1:00 North Carolina Indians and the Seeds of Change
Wanda Carter, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Charlotte Branch
- 1:45 Federal Reserve Resources and Economic Education
*Karen Davis, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Charlotte Branch
Sandy Wheat, NC Council on Economic Education*
- 2:15 Break

2:30 Lower Elementary Breakout (Lower Elementary, K-3)
NC Mints Coin and a New Penny 100 Years Later
Karen Davis, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Charlotte Branch

Upper Elementary Breakout (Upper Elementary, 4-5)
Preparing Students to Play the Stock Market Game
Phyllis McCoy, AG Teacher, Guilford County

3:15 Evaluation /Adjourn
Tim Schilling, Powell Center for Economic Literacy

3:30 Tour of the Charlotte Fed (Optional)

There is no charge for this workshop and lunch is provided. Register by January 15th by clicking here. Register early because space is limited!